

My vow to the love of my life Andres♥

Andy, Andres, Maci, mi “chico listoso”, mi media naranja... just some of the many names I’ve been calling you since I met you...

You know the most how emotional I got just even thinking about this moment... and now it has come... it’s here... GOD, it’s here!!

I will try my really best to be able to say my vow to you without crying the whole time... I don’t think I will succeed, but gosh, there is just so much to say. YOUUU, ANDRES AZAEL MARTINEZ BARAJAS... you just fill my life with so much magic that it’s out of this world.

Standing here, looking into your big dark eyes, and knowing that I will look into those same eyes for the rest of my life only with a few more wrinkles around them in 50 or 60 years makes me feel so safe. No matter what life brings, I just know I will be happy because I have you by my side.

You became part of my life so unexpectedly. I’ve always felt as if destiny purposely pulled us both to Los Angeles just so we could meet you from Mexico and me from Hungary.

From the moment I met you, when we were hiking to the Hollywood Sign, our connection was immediately so different from anything I had ever experienced.

It was so pure, so unconditional, so magical. We didn’t and don’t need anything... no fancy dinners or dates, materialistic things, even money... we just need each other and maybe the shade of a tree in a park where we can lie down and have the purest moments of our lives... how I always say, “It’s just too much heaven.”

Together, we have everything... and for some magical reason, life just provides us with the craziest, most perfect experiences, like this one today! Like how? How did we even pull this together? But I know how... because of the person you are and who we are together.

It’s been so many years, and I still feel like I love you more every day!

Our story and our “alienship,” as we call it, is something that only us can understand.

The way we complete each other what I am missing in me, you have. We are sooo different but so the same at the same time. Like our flags!

I am fire and you are water.

You are calm, logical, and endlessly positive.

I love how you accept me with all my crazy emotions and dramatic personality, and you are always there to “fix me”... You are not just the love of my life and my best friend, but so much more all at once. ♥ Including my psychologist, jaja, who can just grab my face, look into my eyes, and say, “It is going to be okay”... and it will be.

I love the TEAM we are! How we support each other’s dreams and grow together every day. My favorite part about us is that we are not scared to do things. We dare... we dare to move with six luggages to a different country, to experience, to have adventures, to live life fully! Because we know it will be okay because we are together.

I love how you even know my thoughts! We are so deeply connected, you literally hear my thoughts. Remember I asked you so many times if you are an alien... you just can't tell me...
jaja.

Andy, you are my home, my heart, and my safe place.

I know on this crazy road ahead of us called life, we will continue making mistakes, argue and cry, but I don't mind that at all because we are real! Love is not about the perfect moments. Love is seeing the worst of each other and deciding to stay.

I promise that I will stay, because US we are worth every second.

There are 8.1 billion people on this planet, but I still feel alone without you.

Because you are my one in a million, my one in a billion, my one in infinity. Over 8 billion people, and I found the best one!

Despite an ocean between us and a million reasons why we should never have crossed paths, we still found each other.

We were meant to be. This is the one thing in this world I am completely sure of.

Andy, I promise not to miss a single day loving you. I promise to be there for you, to lift you up, and to fight for us, even when times get hard.

Andy Prometo amarte cada día de mi vida, estar siempre a tu lado y luchar por nosotros, incluso cuando la vida se ponga difícil. Te amo por todo lo que eres hoy y por todo lo que llegarás a ser.

I love everything you are now and everything you will become. You are my favorite person to dream with.

Spending my life loving you will be the most precious thing I ever do!

Pasar mi vida amándote será lo más precioso que haré en toda mi vida.
